Editorial Note

2nd International and 19th Croatian Congress of Technologists for Post-Harvest Technology and Bioenergy “ZRNKO 2006“ took place on 22nd and 23rd November 2006 in Tuheljske Toplice, Croatia. This Congress is continually being held since 1985, and it is a Congress of scientists and experts from the field of drying and storing of agricultural products. This year’s Congress was organized by the Faculty of Agriculture University of Zagreb, Croatia in cooperation with the Faculty of Food Technology and Biotechnology University of Zagreb, Croatia, Faculty of Food Technology University of Osijek, Croatia, Faculty of Technology University of Tuzla, Bosnia and Herzegovina and “Politehnica” University of Timișoara, Romania. Co-organizers of the Congress were the European Society of Agricultural Engineers (EurAgEng) and the Balkan Environmental Association (B.EN.A.). The Congress was organized under the auspices of Ministry of Science, Education and Sport, Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Water Management, City of Zagreb - Department for Agriculture and Forestry Department for Agrimanaging, Brodsko-posavska County.

The Congress was attended by approx. 150 participants from Croatia, Austria, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Romania, Slovakia, Serbia, Switzerland, Turkey and Ukraine. 66 papers were presented from the field of bioenergy production from renewable sources, post-harvest technology and processing of cereal and industrial crops, post-harvest technology and horticultural products’ processing, feed technology and agricultural legislatives in EU. All accepted abstracts were published in the Book of Abstracts. I express my gratefulness to all authors.

I also express my great thankfulness to everyone that was engaged in the organisation of the Congress, and to the Scientific Committee. Moreover, I greatly appreciate the support from the sponsors of this event.

Tajana Krička
Congress Chairwoman
